MY HEART LIED written by HELEN LEWIS

I thought this was the perfect situation
A game of love that finally I'd win
I thought you were the only one for me dear
My heart told me that I should just give in.

(Chorus)

But my heart lied, You never tried
You left me standing all alone,
As you drove on down the road
You said goodbye, and then I cried
I shouldn't listen to my heart
Cause my heart lied.

I wish that I could really trust my feelings
My Mother said 'to thine own self be true'
She said that I should listen to my heart now
But Mother never met no one like you

(Chorus)

But my heart lied, You never tried
You left me standing all alone,
As you drove on down the road
You said goodbye, and then I cried
I shouldn't listen to my heart
Cause my heart lied.
